

Finance Committee recommends cutting another $100,000

The Wilmington Finance Committee has asked that a whopping $100,587 be collectively pared from the budgets of six town departments.

Finance Committee Chairman Joyce Brisbois said Tuesday night, however, that even if their recommendations are followed Wilmington's fiscal 1979 budget will still be $104,950 over the much-heralded four per cent cap expected to be signed into law momentarily. The reason for this, she said, is that they have had to make additions to the budget for increased fuel cost projections ($118,000) and unemployment compensation payments for laid-off workers ($40,000).

If the Finance Committee recommendations are accepted on the floor of the May 19 Town Meeting, however, Brisbois said, the 1979 tax rate would decrease to "somewhere between $78 and $79."

Finance Committee recommended cuts in each department are: Police Department, $41,936; Fire Department, $10,000; Highway Department, $23,621; Public Buildings Department, $30,000; Board of Health, $1,000; and Cemetery Department, $4,000.

"A lot of this," Brisbois said, "will be in personal services" (salaries).

Tough decisions for fincom

The Wilmington Finance Committee has succeeded in holding the tax rate at $79 per thousand, if the voters follow their recommendations in the Town Meeting. The Town Meeting will be on May 19.

There are two points which the Fincom could not solve.

One of these is the cost of fuel oil. Town Manager Sterling Morris told the Fincom that he expects the cost of fuel to go up 50 per cent this year. He has allocated the sum of $118,000 for the increase in price of fuel oil, and expects the town will pay $336 thousand for the year.

Unlike other towns and cities, the cost of heat in all town buildings, schools included, is a function of the Town Manager. The Wilmington School Committee did not have to wrestle with this cost item, in its deliberations.

The other point which the Fincom could not solve involves probably discharge of two as yet unnamed town employees. Presumably the Town Manager made a decision on this point Tuesday, and told the Fincom of his decision. Thirty thousand dollars is involved.

Summer jobs

The fincom and town manager have agreed that there will be no summer jobs in several departments, this year, as a cost cutting move. The Town Manager has been combing the lists of employees, to see if some were not needed.

It finally got down to the point where the fincom did not want to name employees who would have to be let go, in order to achieve the goal of CAP, as the legislature and the governor seek to have things. CAP by the legislative goal, at this time, is no more than four per cent increase in costs. By the governor's goal it may be less.

Somewhat, during Tuesday, the Town Manager had to decide on two positions in Wilmington with which the town can get along without, in 1979, and thereby save $30 thousand in salaries. Morris had to agonize over the various jobs in the town departments, such as the highway department, police department, town hall, etc. Somewhere he had to find two jobs to eliminate.

Items

During the long discussion Monday night the Town Manager had one item of good news for the members of the Finance Committee.

The annual cost of rubbish collection has been reduced $15,300. It will now cost $190 thousand. The new contract has just been signed, he said.

But he had to, among other things, increase the money recommended for the Unemployment Account. In the town budget that is Account 985. Morris wants $50,000 instead of $10,000.

This money will be for unemployment pay for town employees who are released from employment because of the economy drive. It has to be paid, by state statute.

Bob Peters, town accountant, added that two school department employees who were released recently are each getting $700 a month from this account. It can continue, he said, for a long time. If other town employees are released from employment, they too will probably draw from Account 985.

The Town Manager said that "I am laboring under the impression that it will probably be people from the school department." Subsequent conversation brought out that teachers aids and nurses both come under this account.

Truck cost

The Town Manager already has bids for the new trucks which the town has to buy, this year, for the highway department. One truck, that he thought was going to cost $34,500 is going to cost $44,555. Morris said this price holds good only until May 21. It will have to be voted in the town meeting and then he will have to make the award quickly, to get the truck. After May 21 he expects the price to jump two thousand dollars.

At another point he warned that, even if the fincom is having tough decisions to make this year, "It is going to be a lot tougher, next year."

Fincom chairman seeks cooperation

Joyce Brisbois is the lady who is the chairman of the Finance Committee of Wilmington. She will, before Wednesday evening is finished, write a letter to the voters of Wilmington asking for cooperation, in keeping the costs of the town down, in Town Meeting. Joyce will ask that the town achieve every vote, if possible, by a two-thirds majority.

Last year a majority vote was all that was needed, to appropriate money for the various accounts that the town meeting considers.

This year the situation is different. The Governor and the Legislature are currently sparring over the proposed limits for tax increases, called CAP. Towns, such as Wilmington have postponed their annual town meetings to the last possible date, in order to be in a position of better knowledge, concerning the financial affairs of the state, when the votes are made.

In some cases town meetings have already been held. It is possible that some of those town meetings will have to be held a second time. This is because of possible legal rulings, regarding the vote of the meeting.

The best way for any town meeting to vote this year is with unanimity. A 100 per cent vote can be read only that way - a 100 per cent vote. There is no room for argument, and Joyce feels that the town may not then have to vote again, on the same item.

However, she will settle for a two-thirds vote. Joyce feels that such a vote will show that the voters are solidly behind the appropriation being made.

And that's the way she will write her letter, which is to go to the printer tonight.

Traffic supervisors would be cut

Wilmington's traffic supervisors may be among the first to feel the pinch when the fiscal 1979 budget goes into effect.

At their Monday night meeting, the Finance Committee voted to delete a $38,197 line item for traffic supervisors thereby wiping out that account.

In its place, they voted to add $21,000 to the contractual services account of the police department for retaining less expensive crossing guards. Fincom members indicated that this would result in a $16,125 savings for the town by eliminating the need for uniforms and other items now stipulated in the traffic supervisors' contract.

Another cut in the police account, this one in the amount of $15,000 came in the area of clerical employees. From this account salaries of two clerks and the sergeant of traffic supervisors are paid.

Bloodmobile

Once again the Wilmington High School Senior Class is sponsoring as their class gift to the town, a bloodmobile. The date is Thursday, May 10 from 1 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Soaking

Youngster rescued by mom

The three-year-old son of John and Patricia Steeves was whisked away to safety by his mom Monday when flames suddenly erupted in a rear bedroom of the couple's Burnap Street home.

Anthony Steeves had been napping in his parents' bedroom. When Patricia Steeves looked in on him at 3:30 p.m. Monday, she saw flames consuming an afghan and bedspread covering the couple's double bed.

Quickly she carried Anthony outside into the yard and then returned to call the fire department and battle the blazing blankets.

Anthony's crib as well as several other articles of furniture and clothing and a television set were among the items destroyed in the blaze.

Responding to the alarm were engines two and five and car 28. In less than an hour they had the fire under control.

Damage to the house, leased by the Steeves from Peter Lepore, was confined to the bedroom.

The couple's only other child, Charlotte, was playing in the yard when the fire erupted her mother said.

The Steeves carried no insurance protection on their furnishings.

Housing district change should help town

A change in housing districts may mean better fortunes in the future for Wilmington in the area of subsidized housing.

The change in designation takes Wilmington out of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council and puts it into the Northern Middlesex Regional Planning District. The NMAC is headquartered in Lowell.

Wilmington's efforts to build housing for the elderly have been stifled in the past because the town has had to compete for funding with the larger towns and cities nearer the Boston area, which were included in the district. In the new district, Wilmington will be included with other communities in the surrounding areas, which are more compatible in size with Wilmington.

The change was made administratively in the Department of Community Affairs, although Rep. James Miceli had filed a legislation to bring about the change. Miceli had filed the bill after meeting with the Wilmington Housing Authority. He scheduled a meeting in Boston which included members of the Housing Authority and Secretary of Community Affairs Byron J. Matthews. Miceli informed the secretary that he had filed legislation to bring about the change, but that he felt it would be more expeditious if the secretary were to handle the transfer administratively.

This meeting was followed by a hearing in Gardner Auditorium. Representative James Miceli spoke first on the need for the change and was followed by Wilmington Housing Authority Executive Director Henry Borrazzo, who underscored the need. A spokesman for Secretary Matthews' office said that they felt they might be able to help the Representative solve the problem administratively.

On May 2, Rep. Miceli was given a letter confirming that his request had been granted by E. James Gaines, administrator of the office of Communities and Development.

Changes proposed in warrant articles

The North Wilmington residents who submitted articles to change the town's zoning by-laws have proposed to change the articles.

The changes were proposed Tuesday night, as the Wilmington Planning Board held a special hearing to review the articles for the special town meeting. The special town meeting is to be held within the annual town meeting on May 19.

Of the eight articles in the warrant for the special town meeting, four were submitted by the North Wilmington group. Article Three would require a written notice of 21 days for abutters in Board of Appeals cases. Article Four would eliminate testing laboratories. Article Five would eliminate animal breeding laboratories. Article Six would delete a general category of allowed industrial uses.

At the Planning Board hearing, additional ideas were submitted by the people who had submitted the four articles. They would change articles three and four.

Moderator John Callan said that the proposal for Article Three would be permissible, but that he was uncertain as to the proposal for amending Article Four. He would, he said, have to study it. The four articles drew considerable attention in the meeting, and several speakers, both pro and con.

Article Five drew particular attention, as it would directly affect the growth of the Charles River Breeding Laboratories. Attorney James Foster of Charles River expressed concern for the company's future expansion, and for the growth of new industry in Wilmington.

Charles River Breeding Laboratories is engaged in the production of laboratory animals. Located in Wilmington for 30 years, it employs hundreds of area residents.

Capt. Larz Neilson, publisher of the Town Crier also spoke up against the articles. He told the Planning Board that the articles would hurt the Charles River Breeding Laboratories.

He defended the zoning by-law, pointing out that it was the subject of a lot of study by the Planning Board at the time of its inception. He was concerned, he said, that the amendments would weaken it, and cause it harm.

According to Jacqueline Allaman, a member of the North Wilmington Betterment Association as well as of the Wilmington Conservation Commission, the intent of the zoning article is to provide guidelines for the Board of Appeals which, she said, currently "Lacks any published rules and regulations."

"You have to take into consideration you need industry to have people," cautioned Planning Board Chairman John DeRoy.

However, John Tscouleas, chairman of the betterment association questioned whether industry should be able to dictate "how the people in town live."

In a witty, but hardly serious analogy, he painted a word picture of a town run by rodents who discuss the establishment of a human testing laboratory to discover what causes cancer in rats.

Also on the agenda for the Planning Board hearing was an article which calls for the rezoning of a parcel of land on Concord Street from single residence A to industrial.

Petitioning for the article is Revere realtor Michael Bucciero, a member of the Boston Development Group which hopes to construct a hotel and trade center on the site in conjunction with a 17,500 seat arena on an adjacent site in the town of North Reading.

'Carol's Crackers' this weekend

One of the zanier events to take place every year at Wilmington High School is the Junior Variety Show. This year is no exception. The members of the Junior Class have turned out "Carol's Crackers." The show is high in originality, with each of the participants creating and writing their own skits. Approximately 58 juniors will be singing, dancing and acting zany this weekend in hopes of making money for their class treasury. The show is under the direction of Carol Chipman and the supervision of Debby Alport, both English teachers. The fun and laughter takes place on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 11 and 12 at the Wilmington High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m., and the admission is $2.

Special needs meeting

The Wilmington Special Needs Parent Advisory Council will be hosting a meeting with all of the Wilmington school principals. The subject of the meeting will be special education programs and services within each of the local schools and will be held in the conference room of Wilmington Memorial Library on May 15 beginning at 7:30 p.m. This is to be an important information-sharing meeting and parents of children receiving special education services of a child who has been referred for a core evaluation are urged to attend.

Art Awards

Twenty-four Wilmington intermediate and senior high school art students received first place awards at the annual "Living Arts" exhibit held at Shawsheen Tech. Wilmington students exhibited their work along with students from Bedford, Billerica, Burlington, and Tewksbury on May 3 and 4. Winners were selected by a panel of judges from area colleges and art schools. Students who received blue ribbons in the categories of ceramics, drawing, painting, photography, and various crafts are: High school: Lisa MacFarland, Dan MacKinnon (two awards), Debbie Massela, Helen DeForge, Marsha Jacobs (two awards), Remy Gentis, Deborah Boccuzzi, Sharon Reinbolt, Linda Ientile, Carol DePasquale, Stacy Russell, Colleen Pierce. Intermediate schools: West Intermediate: Keith Dunnett, Danny Halliday, Keyin Backman, Bruce Hill, Cheryl Evans, Joan Sullivan, Dennis Riley, Fran Vella, Ed Kaiser. North Intermediate: Michael Thibodeau and Joe Cornish. Some of the winners' creations are now on display at Wilmington Memorial Library.

Marie McClanahan, 'Outstanding Secretary'

580m Air Force Base's "Outstanding Secretary for 1978."

Mrs. McClanahan is employed in the Air Force Systems Command's Management Engineering Team Office. She was nominated for the annual award because "she introduced new administrative procedures to quicken flow of paperwork in the office. Particularly effective was a system of having reports completed by their writers - eliminating the in typing by second parties - and one that put a time limit on correspondence and reports, without creating pressure."

Mrs. McClanahan attended Burdett College and Northeastern and Lowell Universities and is presently enrolled in a career development course for manpower management technicians. She is a licensed real estate broker and certified notary in Massachusetts.

Compugraphic announces major expansion

Two new facilities announced last week as part of a $20 million, 1,500-job expansion program by Compugraphic Corporation will be located in Wilmington.

Compugraphic said that it has purchased two sites at the intersection of Interstate 93 and state Route 125 and will begin construction of a new facility at one of those locations this summer.

The first site is a 35-acre parcel where the company will build a $7.5 million, 210,000 square foot engineering and data processing facility. The multi-story building is expected to be completed by June, 1980.

The second location is a 15 acre site which Compugraphic will use for a future facility.

Carl E. Dantas, president of Compugraphic, said that approximately 600 new jobs will be created at the new Wilmington plant.

The new Wilmington facility is part of a major expansion program announced by Compugraphic. A second facility consisting of 203,000 square feet will be constructed in Haverhill as an addition to Compugraphic's existing 103,000 square foot plant in the Ward Hill Industrial Park. That addition will cost $8 million and will be used to manufacture, test and assemble printed circuit boards. It is expected to be completed by December 1980. The City of Haverhill has applied for an Urban Development Action Grant to facilitate the proposed Compugraphic expansion in that city.

Compugraphic also announced that it had purchased 43 acres of land in Taunton as a site for future manufacturing expansion.

Compugraphic already has approximately 800,000 square feet of facilities in 10 different locations in Wilmington and is the major employer in the area. The company said that during the past five years, its employment had risen from approximately 1,800 to more than 4,400 at the present time. Most of these employees work in the Wilmington area where most of the company's manufacturing, engineering and administrative support facilities are located.

Dantas indicated that Compugraphic chose to build its new facilities in Massachusetts "because of their proximity to our present operations. In addition, Compugraphic has been successful in finding and retaining highly motivated employees in Massachusetts."

"While we are continuing to expand in Massachusetts we also have some concerns. The rapid rise which has occurred in personal tax burdens on the citizens of this state has far outpaced tax increases in virtually every other state in this country and this must change. We know the Governor is working hard on this issue, but the solutions will come only from a cooperative effort from the legislature and local government."

Dantas also said "that it is important for the state to begin now to plan and implement programs to increase the future availability of technically trained people. If the shortage of technical manpower and the tax problems are not addressed now they will have an adverse impact on the future economic growth of the state."

Shown above is an artist's rendering of a $7.5 million, 210,000 square foot engineering and data processing facility which will be constructed by Compugraphic Corporation in Wilmington at the intersection of Interstate 93 and Route 125 as part of a $20 million expansion program in the Massachusetts. The facility is expected to create 600 new jobs and is scheduled for completion in June 1980. Compugraphic also has purchased a 15-acre parcel at the same location for a second building. The entire expansion plan, which also includes sites in Haverhill and Taunton, is expected to create a total of 1,500 new jobs in the state.

photocomposition equipment, is one of the fastest growing firms in Massachusetts. During the past five years its employment has grown from approximately 1,800 to more than 4,400 at the present time. Most of these employees work within Massachusetts, where Compugraphic has all its manufacturing, engineering and administrative support facilities.

Compugraphic's products are used by newspapers, commercial printers, and in the in-plant market, where manufacturing and retail businesses, trade and professional organizations, and a variety of other enterprises are using photocomposition equipment in the production of printed materials for their own use.

Over the past five years, the company's sales have increased at a compound annual rate of 35 per cent and reached $181 million last year. Its earnings during this period have risen at a 31 per cent compound rate and reached $13.6 million last year. Dantas indicated that Compugraphic was anticipating that sales and earnings growth in 1979 would exceed 25 per cent. He said that the new facilities will be necessary for Compugraphic to meet the projected demand for its phototypesetters and related word management equipment in the early 1980's.

Compugraphic given go-ahead on third lot

Compugraphic Corporation has issued an order of conditions approving the company's approval for a third parcel of industrial land in North Wilmington. The Wilmington Conservation Commission prepared the order on Tuesday morning.

The parcel of land involved is just north of the site on which the company is proceeding with plans for a four-story building. The company made its formal announcement of that building last week.

The parcel of 21 acres is under option by Compugraphic at the present time. Viewed as a site for future expansion by the rapidly expanding company, the site lies between Ballardvale Street, Old Ballardvale Street, and Route 93.

Water conditions on the site required that the company prepare a drainage plan for the land. Much of the site is a hillside, creating a runoff condition. Erich Neitzche of Robert E. Anderson, Inc. prepared a preliminary site plan for Compugraphic, and presented it to the Wilmington Conservation Commission.

A total of 23 conditions have accompanied the decision. Most notable is that there shall be no increase in the run-off of water and there are to be concrete barriers to prevent sediment run-off.

The Conservation Commission is requiring six to eight inches of loam on the field, which shall be mulched and seeded to provide for a permanent vegetable growth. Oil traps are to be provided, which shall be cleaned on a three times a yearly basis, in the parking lots. Other catch basins and sump pumps are to be cleaned twice yearly.

Provision is also made to prevent salt being used, in the parking areas.

Wilmington Spotlighters awarded state grant

The Wilmington Spotlighters have been named recipients of a $1,000 Council on Arts and Humanities grant, State Representative James Miceli announced recently.

The 10-year-old community theater organization will use the funds to help produce the group's fourth musical-comedy production, "Sound of Music," June 1, 2 and 3, at Wilmington High School.

Rep. Miceli, who was instrumental in obtaining the Spotlighters' grant, said that he had notified both communities in his district of the availability of the state's Arts and Humanities funds, but that only Wilmington decided to apply for them.

The funds came in the nick of time, according to Ann Whitney, a member of the Spotlighters' board of directors. The group, she said, had recently lost money on a St. Patrick's Day dance that had been counted on to help defray the high production costs that musical shows incur.

Included in the Spotlighters' future plans is a Saturday afternoon, May 19, performance of "Gallows Humor" at the New England Theater Conference held each year at Brandeis University. The Spotlighters also plan to prepare a float for entry in the Memorial Day parade.

Thieves 'run in' by running officer

There's more than one way to catch a thief.

If you don't believe it, just ask Wilmington Police Officer Robert Spencer, a cop who combines physical fitness with undercover surveillance.

Last Wednesday, Spencer's keen observations resulted in the arrest of two would-be bike thieves and the return of two 10-speed bicycles to their West Street owners.

Officially off duty last Wednesday afternoon, Officer Spencer was jogging along West Street, something he does regularly to keep in shape. As he ran, he passed two youths trudging along on foot.

Moments later, as he rounded a turn onto Woburn Street, the same two youths passed him. This time they were riding 10-speed bicycles.

His suspicions aroused, Spencer stopped and telephoned the police station, where he learned that two 10-speed bicycles had just been reported stolen from a West Street address.

Cars were dispatched to the area and the youths were taken into custody, shortly after they had abandoned the bikes along Hathaway Road.

They were, police said, quite surprised to see the police cruiser and the jogger they had passed on West Street.

Found guilty on charges of larceny over $100 in Woburn Court Thursday were Scott McAlpine of Haverhill Street, North Reading, and John Jurczak of 5 North Street, North Reading. Both had their cases continued to May 17 for disposition.

Kevin Brander wins Bausch & Lomb award

Wilmington High School student Kevin Brander was recently named winner of the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award.

Kevin is the son of Mrs. Virginia Brander of 18 Thurston Ave., Wilmington.

The award, a handsome bronze medal, is presented each year to winners at more than 8,000 participating schools throughout the United States and Canada.

"The Bausch & Lomb Science Award is especially significant," said

Dr. George O. Eisenberg, high school principal, "because it recognizes the senior student at our school who has attained the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

As winner of the award, Kevin is eligible to compete for one of several four-year Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y. Surveys indicate that the award has encouraged more than 30 per cent of the winners to follow scientific careers.

letter to the editor

Dear Larz:

I am urging all taxpayers in Wilmington who are seriously interested in a lower property tax and no loss in services to support a bill now before the legislature.

It is called TAXBREAKER (H2476), and is sponsored by a broad coalition of thirty-two citizen, senior citizen, taxpayer, and labor groups. TAX BREAKER would raise some $350 million in new revenue by closing existing tax loopholes in Massachusetts, with minimal effect on the average homeowner. In so doing, it would guarantee a reduction in property taxes of 02 for more than two-thirds of Massachusetts homeowners, and a reduction of 10 to 19 for the remainder.

First, TAXBREAKER would raise an estimated $310 million by imposing a 7.5 excise tax on a wide range of services that are currently untaxed, and which are used mainly by high-income individuals. Those services include engineering, accounting and legal fees; stockbrokers fees; interior designers' fees; public relations and advertising fees; architects' fees; and membership in health and country clubs.

Secondly, an additional $40 million would be raised through a 1/4 tax on commercial bank assets. Commercial banks are private banks that mainly loan money to corporations; until recently, only the mutual banks used by most individuals could be taxed at the 1 rate, but Congress has passed a law making commercial banks subject to the tax as well.

This new revenue would guarantee, if TAXBREAKER becomes law, that the taxes of all homeowners would be cut from 10 to 20, far more, than the estimated 7 that would have arisen from Governor King's ill-chosen zero tax cap (which is no longer alive in the legislature). In addition, it would maintain local services: King's cap would have meant drastic cuts in services, a move that a recent Clark University survey showed to be unfavorable to 75 of Massachusetts citizens.

How would TAXBREAKER affect industrial growth? Favorably, since it calls for a guaranteed 10 cut in industrial taxes as well. Commercial and open space property taxes would remain the same.

One other factor we should all consider. Last fall, we voted by a two-to-one margin to reject 100 revaluation, which would have shifted hundreds of millions of dollars in commercial property taxes onto our shoulders. We chose to classify property instead. However, a recent Massachusetts Supreme Court decision threatens that classification.

In Tregor v. Board of Assessors of Boston, the high court ruled that commercial property owners could use individual abatements to achieve the same effects that 100 revaluation would have accomplished. Such abatements would lower commercial assessments to the lowest level, that of the private homeowner. Thus, Tregor means that despite the overwhelming mandate of the voters last fall, the effects of the 100 revaluation, which was defeated, would be passed on to all of us.

Only the TAXBREAKER can stop this process. It is a fair law, which would shift the burden onto the backs of those who can afford to pay, and not onto those whose backs are about to be broken by the sky-high property taxes, 65 cent a gallon home fuel oil, and dollar-a-gallon gasoline.

I urge all thinking homeowners (and renters, since they, too, would share in reduced taxes guaranteed by TAXBREAKER) to support this bill. If we don't we will be forced to pay the tab we rejected last fall in the classification battle. We beat big business then; let's make sure they don't achieve their goal through Tregor-related abatements. TAX-BREAKER is the answer.

Sincerely,
R.P. Cooper

Ben's Shelby

It was no coincidence that Mrs. Eleanor Ristuccia was at the Shelby meet at Wilmington Ford on Sunday. Her husband Ben owns the dealership, and this 1968 Shelby GT 500 KR.

Not Henry, not Jerry

The Shelby meet on Sunday at Wilmington Ford included two cars from the Ford family of Wilmington. Brad Ford is shown with his father Harold's 1968 Shelby GT 500, a green convertible. Also in the show was Brad's sister Sandy's 1969 GT 500, a white coupe.

The trademark for the Shelby is a Cobra. This charcoal sketch by Laurel Ford is a takeoff on that trademark. Her family owns two of the cars.

Wilmington Ford hosts Shelby meet

If it seemed as though there was a large number of Ford Mustangs around town on Sunday, well, there was...sort of. But don't call them Mustangs.

The cars were Shelybs. Manufactured in the late 1960's, the cars were based on Ford's Mustang, and then extensively modified by Carroll Shelby, a California automotive entrepreneur.

The result of Shelby's work is a breed of car that has become a classic. The car is distinctive enough that its collectors have a club of their own, the Shelby American Club. And on Sunday, Shelybs from all over New England converged on Wilmington Ford for a meet.

Of the 48 cars registered, nearly 40 were true Shelybs. The club also allows related Ford products into its exhibitions. The collection of vehicles on display included Cobras, Panteras, Shelybs, a Mustang Mach 1, and a 1965 Ford pickup truck, restored and painted bright yellow.

The Cobra was an English-produced car built in 1965 and 1966, powered by Ford. Shelby adopted the Cobra name, and produced cars through 1970.

Winners of the exhibition were chosen for several categories of cars. They included:

Tiger division: 1. Dana Freedman, North Reading. 2. Jim Ricci, Haydenville.

Cobra division: 1. Skip King, Northboro. 2. Frank Nuzzolo, Fairhaven, Vt.

Pantera division: Ben Caci, North Andover.

"Boss" Mustang division: 1. Donald Pininaki, Chicopee. 2. Paula Germain.

Special Interest division: 1. Rick Wilson, Concord, 69 Falcon. 2. Dave Hazeltine, Marblehead, 66 Mustang.

65-66 Shelby division: 1. Mike St. Pierre. 2. Howard Pardee, New London, Ct.

67-68 Shelby division: 1. Bill Morrison. 2. Neil Canner.

69-70 Shelby division: 1. Peter Robichaud, Leominster. 2. Herbert Bunker, Poland, Me.

The clubs next meet will be in June at Shiretown Ford in Plymouth.

Safety talk

Debbie Droker, occupational therapist, was scheduled to give a talk and demonstration, on "Safety and Independence in the Home" - last month. Due to the small number in attendance and the importance of this information, however, we have invited her back on May 11. She will begin her talk and demonstration at 11:30 a.m. This information is very important to anyone disabled by a stroke, arthritis or other crippling illness, or for those who have been caring for someone with a crippling illness. The talk will take between one half to three quarters of an hour - a very little time well spent.

Diabetes clinic

The diabetes clinic will be held on May 17 at 1:30 p.m. Our health is our responsibility, not anyone else's. If we do not take care of it, no one else will. By attending this clinic you can show that you care about your health.

Food van

The food van has become very popular with seniors in the North Woburn Elderly Project, and Nutrition Site. Now that the weather is good it would be a good time to check it out. The time is Friday from 1 to 2 p.m. Seniors who have purchased the food from the van, have been very pleased with prices and quality. The van located on Nichols Street extension, opposite the fire house (Rte. 38, North Woburn).

We have petitioned the director of the food van to have a stop made at Denning Way on Friday afternoons. He informed me he will do what he can, but will have to wait until Governor King's budget is passed, one way or the other, before anything can be decided.

Reminder

It seems I have to remind you again that if you want to receive a hot lunch at the North Intermediate School it is necessary for you to sign up at the office, either in person or by telephone, by calling 687-7595 before noon the day before you would like the meal. If you do not want the meal you should let us know.

We certainly can understand how frustrating it must be for those who prepare and serve these meals if the numbers we call are not the same as the number of people who show up for a meal.

FDA news

Beginning in September, a Federal Food and Drug Administration regulation will require all prescription drugs, and most of the counter medication, to carry an expiration date. This new F.D.A. guideline should help all consumers especially the elderly to use their store-bought drugs safely and properly.

The F.D.A. also advised all consumers that improperly stored drugs may deteriorate and even become hazardous to the users' health. They suggest you store pills and medications in a cool, dry and dark place (not in a bathroom cabinet where high humidity can harm some drugs), and that you be wary of any changes in a drug's color, smell or composition. If you have any questions about changes in the external condition of a drug that you have been using, contact the pharmacist from whom you bought the medication.

Youth loses fingers in explosion

A 15-year-old Wilmington youth learned the hard way last Saturday that homemade explosives are dangerous toys.

Currently recuperating at Massachusetts General Hospital from an accident which cost him two fingers of his left hand is Francis DeVita of 10 Lockwood Road.

DeVita, a sophomore at Shawheen Tech, was experimenting last weekend with the assembly of homemade bombs, fabricated from matches, pieces of pipe and gunpowder.

When he attempted to tighten the device's cap, however, it exploded.

DeVita also suffered extensive burns about his face, chest and abdomen, police said.

Two friends who were visiting him at home when the accident occurred were not injured.

DeVita told police he had made other similar explosives in the past and that other students at Shawheen Tech have also been building them.

DeVita was at first taken to the Wilmington Regional Health Center and later transferred to Mass. General for further treatment.

Fire blackens woodland

Wilmington Fire Fighters Robert Andersen and Steve Robbins take a breather while gathering hose in the aftermath of a large brush fire in Wilmington, Tuesday afternoon.

Wilmington and Tewksbury fire fighters worked for over four hours Tuesday afternoon to knock down a brush fire in the woods between Middlesex Avenue and Lawrence Street behind the Congregational Church.

The Wilmington men had to wait until Tewksbury Forest Fire Fighting equipment could be brought in to battle the blaze. The only weapons the Wilmington men had were hand pumped back packs of water. The problem was one of access. The fire was deep in the woods with no roads, or paths that a truck could travel. Three gas powered pumps were used by the firemen to supply water from a small frog pond near the edge of the fire.

Estimates ranged from 20 to 30 acres were burnt. Fire Fighter Steve Robbins said "I own three and a half acres and my place would fit in there many times."

MVC baseball

Redmen suffer, Wildcats survive in MVC race

by Rick Cooke

Tewksbury suffered through a winless week of MVC baseball, dropping games to Austin Prep (9-7), Wilmington (5-1) and Andover (6-0). Coach John Bresnahan's Redmen stumbled to 2-8 in the conference after the week's action that saw them have pitching problems (Austin), fielding woes (Wilmington) and bat anemia when they ran into a hot pitcher in Andover lefty Bob Heidt (2-1, 1.33 ERA) Monday at Hazel Field.

The Wildcats, although still a hold your breath club when in the field, managed to bang the ball around and get enough good fundamental play to post three victories, excellent when you consider the fact that coach Jim Gillis' troops still aren't playing that well and are going with two starting pitchers with no varsity experience (John Ferguson and Earl Paulsen). Still, Wilmington went unbeaten for the week, topping Austin Prep 9-7 in a typical Wildcat win Monday at WHS after belting Tewksbury Friday and nipping Central Catholic 9-8 Wednesday.

Gillis knows by now that this team can hit - and they have had to mash the ball all spring to get where they are - in fourth place in the MVC with a solid 6-4 record. The Wilmington Mashers have won three straight and four of their last five MVC games. The Wildcats are 7-5 overall this spring.

Monday, May 7...

Andover 6-Tewksbury 0
Steve Marsh (single) and Mike Moore (double) broke up a no-hitter by Andover's Bob Heidt in the bottom of the seventh inning and that was the extent of the Tewksbury offense as the Redmen dropped their eighth game of the spring.

Junior lefty Ron Wallace was the loser for the Redmen, fanning seven and walking two. Heidt struck out four and issued five walks.

The Golden Warriors who are still trying to catch Methuen in the MVC race, rapped five hits for their six runs, scoring three times in the fourth inning.

Wilmington 9-Austin Prep 7
The Wildcats grabbed their third straight win and their fourth in their last five games on the strength of their bats as Scott Richards rapped three hits, Rich Scanlon went three for four and John Scozzaro banged out two safeties.

Tewksbury's Mike Geary had three hits for Austin Prep. Junior righty Earl Paulsen went the full seven innings, not walking a batter to get the decision from Tewksbury's Paul Tower, who allowed 12 hits while walking two and striking out a pair. Paulsen allowed 10 AP hits.

Friday, May 4...

Wilmington 5-Tewksbury 1
Junior righty John Ferguson bested Steve Marsh (0-4) on the mound and helped his own cause with a single and a double to drive in a run.

Other big sticks for the Cats were Rich Scanlon with a single and two RBI's; Dave Woods with two singles and an RBI; Bob Gearty with a single and an RBI and Scott Richards who ripped Marsh for a double.

The Redmen outlived Wilmington eight-seven, but committed five errors to the Wildcats' two and managed just one extra basehit, that being a triple by junior centerfielder Bob Dascoli.

Jim Friedman, who later pulled ligaments in his knee on a Wildcat takeout slide at secondbase, drove home Tewksbury's run with a single.

Wallace slapped two singles for the Redmen with single safeties to Moore, Carmen Frederico and Scott Goldstein.

Austin Prep 9-Tewksbury 7

The visitors bolted to a 5-0 lead in the top of the first inning, forcing Tewksbury to play a catch-up game that fell just short. Friedman and Goldstein helped Tewksbury back into the contest, Jimmy belting two doubles for an RBI and Scott slapping three singles to go along with his run batted in.

Al Schultz had a double for an RBI, Moore an RBI single, as did Ron Wallace. Paul Erikson had an RBI and Don O'Brien rounded out the attack with a single.

The Cougars rapped 10 hits around Hazel Field with Goldstein making his first start in over a year, taking the loss. The Redmen committed four more errors in this game.

Wednesday, May 2...

Wilmington 9-Lawrence Central 8
A good relief stint by senior righty Neil Wetzler helped preserve this slugfest win for the Cats who got good stick work from Rich Scanlon and Bob Gearty with three hits apiece. Kevin Brander had two hits for Wilmington and Scott Richards banged a double and a triple.

Wetzler took over for starter Earl Paulsen in the fourth inning, allowing two hits and two runs the rest of the way. Neil struck out three and didn't walk a batter.

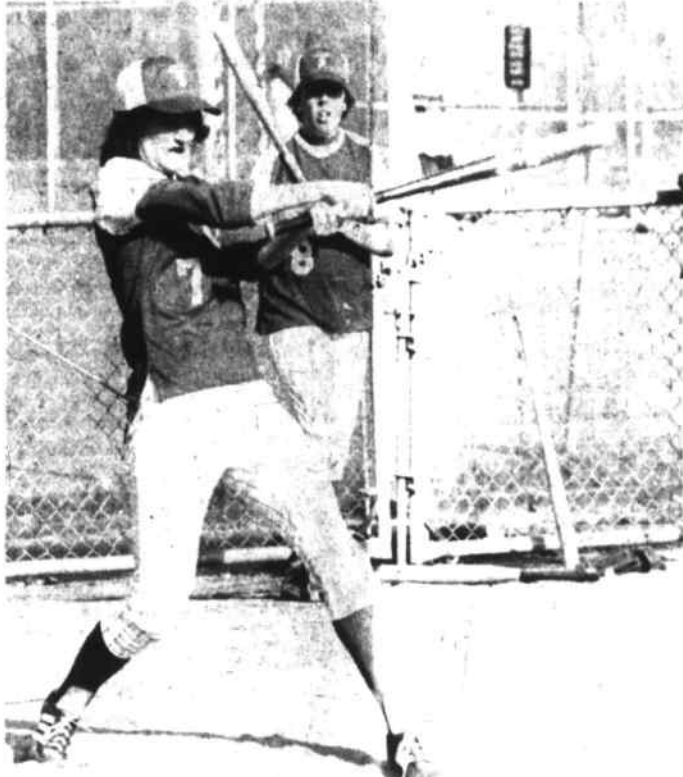

Short stuff...Tewksbury's Don O'Brien (.476), Jim Friedman (.465) and Scott Goldstein (.464) were the top three hitters in the MVC before Monday afternoon's action. Wilmington's Scott Richards rounds out the local hitters in the top four with a robust .452 mark.

Redmen junior Steve Marsh, 7-0 a year ago as a soph, has had the tables turned on him this spring, pitching in tough luck to the tune of a 0-4 record despite a good 2.25 ERA.

Wilmington blasted twice; Szostak blanks Tewksbury

Chelmsford and Billerica, the Merrimack Valley Conference co-leaders, set the young Wilmington girls varsity softball squad back on its heels last week with a pair of convincing setbacks.

Coach Jan Urquhart's team, with three freshmen on its varsity roster, were blitzed 18-3 by Billerica Friday and took a 16-6 blasting from Lions in MVC action Monday to fall one game back of the leaders with a 5-3 record. Coach Bonnie Robert's Tewksbury

(4-4) club fell victim to Methuen ace pitcher Nancy Szostak for the second time this year in Monday's 4-0 blanking after TMHS had been bounced by Andover 9-1 Friday afternoon. Tewksbury started its week in high style with a come-from-behind 6-5 win over Billerica at Livingston Street Wednesday.

Chelmsford 16-Wilmington 6
The Lions have turned red hot, winning six straight to move into a tie for first place in the MVC while Wilmington has slumped in its last two contests. Chelmsford avenged an earlier no-hit loss to Wilmington's Sue Rowe, this time reaching Sue for a bunch of basehits to back the two-hit pitching of Maureen Morse.

Methuen 4-Tewksbury 0
Nancy Szostak, headed for Ohio State on a field hockey scholarship, two hit Tewksbury for the second time this spring, fanning five and walking four at the Rangers' diamond. Cindy Whitney, who had one of the TMHS singles, was the losing pitcher, allowing just three Methuen safeties. Debbie Pollinger had the other TMHS single.

Billerica 18-Wilmington 3
Billerica's Jackie Tracey three-hit Wilmington in this rout with Mary Beth Gentile rapping two hits for the home club that slipped into a three way tie for first place.

Scott's other interests include judo, an activity where he has earned a black belt.

Paul Erikson

This TMHS senior doubles as a center for the varsity hockey squad and an outfielder for the TMHS baseball club. The 18-year-old Erikson is looking forward to attending the United States Military Academy at Norwich with biology his main interest of study.

Paul lives at 6 Crawford Drive with his parents John and Marilyn Erikson.

Jim Friedman

The Tewksbury co-captain and senior shortstop has a lofty ambition, wanting to "get rich quickly" after majoring in accounting at North Adams State College.

The 18-year-old Friedman was a co-captain for coach Dave Mullen's varsity basketball club this year. Jimmy lives at 21 Charlotte Road with his parents Robert and Carole Friedman.

Carmen Frederico

Carmen was busy during his senior year playing soccer, basketball and baseball at TMHS along with maintaining a high grade average that has won him acceptance at the University of Lowell.

JV's off to 6-4 start

Tewksbury High school's junior varsity softball squad boosted its record to 6-4 on the season after last week's action. Coach Dolly Sacramone's club began its season with a forfeit win over Westford in non-league competition before heading into MVC action against the always tough Methuen Rangers.

Picking up thirds for Tewksbury were Dave Kiernan (shot put), Bradley (discus), Ranger (javelin), Busser (high jump), Tim Brothers (100), Bernardi (880) and Ryan (120 high hurdles).

The Redmen outscored the Middies in the field events 33-29 with Bradley leading the way with six points in the shot put and the discus. The Tewksbury runners held a 48-34 edge with Foley picking up 10 points there. Brian was the leading scorer for the meet with 15 points.

Dracut senior Bill Stecchi set a new Middle mark in the high jump with a leap of 6'3". The previous Dracut mark was 5'8" set by Bill Piekarski in 1975.

Chelmsford
winner

Chelmsford was the winner of the Northern Area Sophomore-Freshmen Track Meet at Wilmington High School Saturday. Coach Frank Kelley's team picked up 20 points to finish in 10th place among the 25 teams competing. Mark Boudreau was Wilmington's top performer with a fine effort in the long jump.

Girls rout Dracut, Chelmsford

Tewksbury's girls freshmen track squad bounced back after an opening day loss to Andover East, ripping through Dracut 70-30 and Chelmsford McCarthy 65-35 in action last week.

Tewksbury 70-Dracut 30

Tewksbury dominated the field events in this win with sweeps in both the shot put and the long jump. Joanne Lemelin's 28'10 1/4" throw in the shot led the way in that event with second and third going to Laura Stella and June DeStefano respectively.

Leanne Lewis copped the long jump with an impressive 14'10" leap while Christine Petros and Janet Wyr were close behind in second and third.

Other Tewksbury firsts were recorded by DeStefano in the discus (80'10"), Patty Murphy in the 880 (2:35.4), Jody Frederico in the 440 (66.7) and the hurdles (13.7). Maria Santagati in the mile (6:10.9) along with the 440 relay team of Laura Stella, Tricia Lavalley, Tina Hanson and Leanne Lewis (58.3) and the mile relay quartet of Joanne Lemelin, Mary Ryan, June DeStefano and Patty Murphy (4:46.6).

Seconds went to high jumper Colleen May (4'2"), hurdler Laura Stella, 100 yard sprinter Tricia Lavalley (13.2), 440 runner Joanne Lemelin and Leanne Lewis in the 220 (30.7). The improving Kathy Gorman took third in the discus, Lisa Nocco was third in the 880 thanks to a 200 yard kick to overtake two Dracut runners, while Christine Petros and Tina Hanson tied for third in the 220 behind Leanne Lewis.

Kelly Carey ran a strong race in the mile to finish fourth, missing third place by just two tenths of a second, and Paula Wakeen continued to improve with a fifth place finish in that same race.

Tewksbury 65-Chelmsford McCarthy 35

Tewksbury winners were Joanne Lemelin (shot put-29'2"), June DeStefano (discus-85'3 1/4"), Christine Petros (long jump-13'10"), Patty Murphy in the 80 low hurdles (13.4) and the 440 (67.1), Jody Frederico in the 880 (2:43.3), Maria Santagati with her third straight win in the mile (6:31.4), the 440 relay team of Stella, Lewis, Lavalley and Petros (59.9) and the mile relay unit of Lemelin, DeStefano, Frederico and Sally Hourihan.

Joanne Lemelin took a second in the 220 (31.0) after a slow start and Lisa Nocco ran a strong mile, finishing on the heels of the winner Santagati. Other runner-ups were Jody Frederico in the high jump (4'2"), Patty Murphy in the long jump, and Laura Stella in the 80 low hurdles.

Thirds went to Tricia Lavalley in the 220 and the long jump, Laurie Daniels in the 880 and Leanne Lewis in the 440.

This week coach Steve Levine's girls have a busy schedule with meets against Keith Hall (May 7), Chelmsford's Moses Parker (May 9), Methuen (May 11) and Greater Lowell (May 15).

Rowe misses connection

WHS junior Susan Rowe fouls off a pitch in recent action. Sue and her mates took it on the chin twice in MVC action last week, losing to Billerica and Chelmsford.

MVC boys tennis

Cameron keeps on plugging

The Tewksbury boys tennis team may be winless, but Scott Cameron keeps winning - or coming close at least - as the Redmen struggle along with a 0-9 mark at the bottom of the MVC.

Cameron lost another hard-fought match in MVC action Monday as Andover's Bob Conroy posted a 6-3, 6-3 victory to help his Golden Warrior mates to a 4-1 win over coach George Hughes' team at the Livingston Street courts.

Wilmington was a 4-1 loser to tough Austin Prep, but the doubles team of Iozzo and Tom Reed played well in recording the Wildcats' lone point of the match.

continued to roll last week with a 5-0 blanking of Tewksbury. Once again sophomore Scott Cameron was the top battler for coach George Hughes' team, taking Austin's Steve Capel to three sets before losing 7-6, 4-6, 6-2.

John Harmon topped Tewksbury's Bob Ford, 6-0, 6-1 in the second singles

Freshmen will have fulltime coach

by Rick Cooke

The Tewksbury freshmen football team, fresh off a championship and an undefeated season, will have a fulltime coach come the fall. The junior varsity soccer team, ready for its first season, will also have a leader; the boys varsity gymnastics program has been given a reprieve of sorts and Lowell and Haverhill are in their customary holding patterns in their almost semi-annual attempt to crack the Merrimack Valley Conference lineup.

It was a sports potpourri at the Tewksbury school committee meeting last Wednesday night, with TMHS Athletic Director Michael Sullivan on hand to discuss the plans for MVC expansion and realignment with the committee while also waiting to hear decisions concerning two coaches, a shaky winter sport and a faculty manager.

Freshmen will have fulltime coach. The frosh will not be coached by a varsity coach on a part-time basis as was the original plan after John Donoghue resigned to pursue his education after last year's championship season.

Several months ago the committee voted to eliminate the fulltime position with the $1200 salary, but through the lobbying efforts of Sullivan and varsity football coach Bob Ayward the frosh spot was saved - at least for this year-with the committee choosing to take a wait-and-see attitude after a drop off in popularity and the attendance surrounding the varsity program that was described accurately by Sullivan as having an "off" year.

With the growth of soccer as a sport in Tewksbury and the varsity football team's slump (2-8 season) of last year members of the committee openly wondered if a fulltime frosh coach would be a luxury in the coming years should the drop continue.

Sullivan warned however that the undefeated season by the freshmen could serve to recharge both the varsity and freshmen programs this coming season and that perhaps the committee should adopt a wait-and-see attitude while reinstating the fulltime coaching position.

It was voted (5-0) that the money be kept in the budget until there were the numbers to justify a fulltime coach. With an unbeaten season behind them and the steady success of the Pop Warner program in Tewksbury the frosh footballers should have no worries about taking a coaching backseat to anyone in 1979.

Sullivan, who has not been able to post the fulltime position, will do so shortly as the search for a coach begins.

Gymnasts saved - for now. The Tewksbury boys gymnastics team - at a low ebb in popularity in recent winters and with a team of only six boys this past season, was put on hold by the school committee until it can be determined if the sport can make a go of it next season.

Sullivan added that he thought the dropoff in the program was no fault of coach Gerry O'Keefe, although he admitted one of the main problems facing O'Keefe was that he was not employed as a teacher in the system, making it that much tougher for him to round up candidates for his team.

Junior varsity gets soccer coach. TMHS varsity soccer coach Steve Levine has felt since the inception of his program that a junior varsity team was a necessity to soccer's development in town. There will be a JV team, and of course a coach, next season.

The school committee voted last Wednesday to hire a JV soccer coach while also eliminating the position of faculty manager to AD Sullivan. Sullivan's math class time was cut to one per day in another committee move.

Sullivan reports on Lowell, Haverhill. Sullivan presented the committee with a 15 page report on the ongoing saga of the expansion and realignment of the Merrimack Valley Conference with Lowell and Haverhill as the main applicants.

The committee essentially told Sullivan that he should continue to handle the decision-making process on the matter, but also reminded the Tewksbury AD to leave the door open at least a crack for the two schools to enter the conference in the future.

Sullivan has consistently voted "present" or in reality "no deal" whenever the MVC athletic directors have discussed expansion and realignment into two six team divisions.

The setup would have the bigger schools - Andover, Billerica, Chelmsford, Haverhill, Lowell and Methuen in one division with Austin Prep, Lawrence Central Catholic, Dracut, Lawrence, Wilmington and Tewksbury in the other.

Sullivan worries about the increase in the bus transportation costs should expansion come, the expansion of the boys basketball schedule that he doesn't think Tewksbury can afford and the possible loss of traditional rivalries that have been established in the conference.

The Tewksbury AD makes another valid point. "What do we say to the private schools? We can't just kick them out." Under the realignment procedure Austin Prep and Lawrence Central Catholic would remain in the conference, but the question is would they choose to drop out rather than face the prospect of having to play schools the size of Lowell and Haverhill with some of their weaker teams. Hockey for Austin is one matter while football is an entirely different game plan when you're talking about the Preppers playing Lowell or Haverhill.

The possible expansion of the MVC has been in limbo for several years now and it's not likely to change in the near future. Several MVC athletic directors feel that they have a solid, workable league with several fine rivalries. They fear rocking the boat. Dracut and Wilmington are two of the smallest schools in the conference that have always been dead set against expansion. They fear that in the near future their school's athletic programs may be overwhelmed by schools in the conference as it stands now.

With a two-thirds vote of the MVC AD's needed to get Lowell and Haverhill into the conference it isn't likely that Tewksbury, Dracut or Wilmington will jump on the expansion bandwagon in the near future.

Lefebvre with two safeties each. Joanne Bolton and Kelly Casey were the defensive standouts for Tewksbury.

Wilmington 8-Tewksbury 6. Wilmington snapped Tewksbury's winning streak despite the efforts of Joanne Bolton who batted out three hits including a double. Joanne was also outstanding behind the plate for the winners.

Karen Maguire turned in a steady job at firstbase. She has compiled 23 putouts on the season while committing just one error.

Tewksbury 9-Lawrence 6. Tewksbury handed the Lawrence JV's their first loss of the spring with a seven run fifth inning spelling the difference. Maureen Doherty and Karen Maguire ripped two hits apiece for Tewksbury with solo shots by Joanne Bolton, Tricia Lefebvre and Judy Gessner.

Anne Coakley and Judy Gessner were the defensive standouts in this upset win.

Chelmsford 10-Tewksbury 7. The Tewksbury girls fought back from a 10-4 deficit, but fell just short despite the hitting heroics of Annette Landry (triple) and Anne Coakley (double).

Tewksbury 13-Greater Lawrence 10. Eleven Voke errors paved the way for this non-league win and Tewksbury received some excellent stick work from Joanne Bolton who belted a sixth inning homer. Pitcher Gail Gordon's debut was a success thanks largely to some fine defensive work by Judy Gessner.

Billerica 11-Tewksbury 9. The locals clawed back to make a game of it after trailing 8-0 in the second inning. Karen Maguire and Barb Smith wielded the big sticks for Tewksbury while Judy Gessner and Annette Landry were solid defensively.

Tewksbury 10-Andover 4. Win number six was sparked by the hitting of Joanne Bolton, Judy Gessner, Barb Smith, Tricia Lefebvre and Mary Chase. Tewksbury has been forced to replace the injured Kelly O'Neil while Anne Coakley, Annette Maguire and Mary Murphy are all playing new positions.
